

MT. GLENWOOD CEME- TERY OFFICE BROKEN INTO.

Thieves Break Dial on Safe But Fall to Open It—Steal Small Articles When Frightened Away.

The Mount Glenwood Cemetery office, 3125 South State street, was broken into Saturday night by thieves. They managed to get the rear screen door open and by cutting a hole in the door were able to release the bolts and open it.

Getting in unnoticed, they chiseled the dial off the safe, but failed in their attempt to open it. They failed in their motive as far as money was concerned.

Then they turned their efforts to the petty things. The management told The Defender reporter that the thieves stole the hand towels, soap, brushes and combs, the chewing gum that the typist had left on her desk. The damage to the safe amounted to thirty-five dollars besides the trouble it put the office to. The way things looked it appeared as though the thieves became scared and made a hurried exit. The police have no clew as to who the guilty parties were.
